

MECHANICAL HARVESTING EQUIPMENT

Stem removing machine VR.020

A stem removing machine produced mainly of stainless steel. This machine is provide with a side discharge belt, and frequency controlled driving speed. Height of the machine is left and right individually adjustable.

Harvesting machine CM.010

The Limbraco harvesting machine is specially designed for harvesting of canned mushrooms. It is made of high quality materials and produced mainly of stainless steel. The machine contains of two counter-moving cutting blades (which prevents excessive wear of the machine), and two side knives which are separately adjustable in height. This in combination with brushes , ensures a stable harvesting process. The speed of this 4-wheel driven machine is frequency controlled.

Stem removing machine VR.020

A stem removing machine produced mainly of stainless steel. This machine is provide with a side discharge belt, and frequency controlled driving speed. Height of the machine is left and right individually adjustable.

LIMBRACO

